Lawrence and Humbolt Mail Letting the Cat Out of the Bag. Stage Line.

By the proceedings of the Ohio City Convention, which we publish in another column, it will be seen that work has commenced in the right way to secure a stage and mail route. Territory, and at no distant day will be the most extensively travelled one. Almost the entire emigration to the Neosho and Pottawatomic country will pass over this road, and consequently through Prairie City .-For a distance of nearly one hundred miles the road is in a direct line, and when railroads begin to be the order of the day in Kanzas, we may confidently expect to look for one in this direction. On the line of this route are Lawrence, Blanton, Brooklyn, Prairie City, Ottawa Creek, Ohio City, Fairview, Liberty, Hyatt, Deer Creek and Humbolt-all having post

Mr. Anny stated at the Convention that a movement was on foot, with unmistakable evidences of succeeding, among the citizens of the towns in Missouri and Kanzas, from Jefferson City in a direct line west to Emporia, Kanzas, to establish a mail route between the two latter points, and that a convention was soon to be held at some point in Western Missouri, to consider the subject of establishing a railroad over the said route. It has been ascertained that a road can be built through this section of country at a trifling expense in comparison to the cost of constructing one up the Kaw Valley, and that the distance from Jefferson City to Lawrence is much less via. Hyatt, than by the established mail routes. Mr. Anny is confident that the contemplated railroad will be established and probably completed as soon as any in the Territory, and the matter of having a line of mail stages over that route will be attended to and ne cessary arrangements perfected immediately. The Lawrence and Humbolt mail will connect with this at Hyatt, and thus in a short time, when the fact of its despatchness is generally ascertained, the entire mail of the Kaw Valley and Northern Kanzas, will unquestionably pass over these

We trust that the citizens of the towns on the line of the proposed Lawrence and Humbolt route, will consider the matter with that importance which it deserves, and act in accordance. It behooves the citizens and those interested in the growth of Prairie City to be ardent in their efforts to push forward this matter, and they must not be backward in furnishing "material aid" for the desired object. A committee was appointed at the convention, consisting of one representative from each town interested, to solicit subscription for the purpose, which committee are to assemble at Ohio City on the Prairie City representative of that committee, and he will shortly call to work in the matter in good earnhundred dollars. Shall Prairie City be backward?

from it than any other town on the line. By the means of it she will be is so important and obtained at so Cottonwood regions and the Pottawatomie country, which is now done and hotel-keepers, in particular,must readily see what incalculable advantages this road will afford them; consequently we have a right to expect liberal assistance from them, Hurrah for the Sale!

Several of the most valuable lots in Prairie City, are to be sold at pub- tration, as it has done all for the lie auction, on next Saturday-sale to commence at one o'clock. Prairie City is among the towns that is, not a State Rights Democrat, and and is bound to be. Property is who has not given practical evidence cheap now-two hundred per cent. of his sincerity. Advance."

Ever since Col. Forney's Democratic friends in Pensylvania turned their backs so ungratefully upon him in his endeavors to attain a U. S. Senatorship from that State, he has been "kicking in the traces." The This will be the longest route in the President, once the Colonel's warmest friend, is said to be daily growing cool storage, sale, gift or usage, as a bevand indifferent toward him, and the Pennsylvanian, once the property of Col. Forney, and which, under his control, did excellent service in securing the election of Buchanan, lately pub lished an article denouncing him in bitter terms. The result of this is dissension among the Pennsylvania Democracy, and the establishment of a new paper by the Colonel, called The the right which said party of the Press, to vindicate himself and position. A paper friendly to the Colonel, alluding recently to the injustice done him, remarks:

"He unquestionably contributed more towards Mr. Buchanan's election than any other man living. Indeed, some think the contest in Pennsylvania would have been doubtful had it not been for the active exercise of his talents and influence.'

Another Democratic journal, of contrary views, in commenting on the above, remarks:

"That is correct. If Forney had not bought the Irish, and bribed the Dutch, in Philadelphia, and smuggled in several thousand illegal votes, Ir. Buchanan never would have been elected. But the colonel should not complain; those who do such very dirty work, are the very men to get cheated by their masters."

This is frank, surely, but it looks to us like the basest kind of ingratitude. Such exhibitions conflict strongly with the merits of the adage of "honor among thieves."

Are You Moving?

Are the people of Wyandott, Gardner, Olathe, Centropolis, Neosho City, and other towns that ought to be interested in establishing a line of mail stages from Wyandott to Southern Kanzas, manifesting that interest which the importance of the project demands? Will they be well represented at the Mass Convention to be held at Prairie City, on the not be asleep in the matter. Let her state. citizens, and all those interested in her growth and prosperity, be or hand at the convention.

Shall the Press be Sustained?

Under the above heading, the Wyandott City Register makes some remarks which are so pefectly applicable to these parts, and which express our sentiments so completely, that we copy them :-"That is to us an important question. There are a large number of persons known as outside proprietors of Wyandott City, who have large interests in the prosperity of Wyandott, and many there are of that class who have not done the first thing to sustain us in our enterprise.
